

The Centre for Adoption Support

Support & training services for adoptive families & permanency carers

A guide for adopters and carers

November 2015

Who are we?

The Centre for Adoption Support is a unique northwest based service providing support and training to adoptive families and more recently, permanence carers through kinship and special guardianship.

The centre was established in 2013 as a partnership between two long established charities and specialist adoption agencies, Adoption Matters and Caritas Care with support from the Department for Education. The two agencies together have over 140 years' experience in working with Local Authorities across the UK to find families for children in care and provide adoption support services.

Both adoption agencies are rated as 'outstanding' by Ofsted and Adoption Matters were named Voluntary Adoption Agency of the year by BAAF in 2012 & 2014.

The Centre for Adoption Support

We know every child is different, there is no 'one size' of support that fits all

In the Centre's first 2 years, we have worked with over 500 parents, 113 children and delivered support to around 700 social work, health and education professionals.

Our experience shows that by providing families with access to broad training and support from the early stages we enable them to develop their own strategies for managing the family situation and build their confidence and resilience.

Our process

We understand that many adopted children can face challenges as a result of early life experiences and sometimes, children, their families, schools and all those around them need help to understand and meet those challenges. Our experienced team will work with you, and if needed your local authority, to identify the best support for them at their point of need at whatever age or stage.

Many of our services fall within the remit of the Adoption Support Fund meaning that your approving local authority (if you are not an approved Adoption Matters or Caritas Care adopters) can apply for Government funding to cover the costs of this support.

Foetal Alcohol Syndrome (3hrs)	To consider the effects of alcohol on the unborn infant as well as the longer term impact on various aspects of child development. Living with a child on the FAS spectrum requires an increased understanding of the daily challenges. Tried & tested strategies will be shared.
Nurtured Heart Day 1 (6 hrs)	The workshop is designed for parents and professionals who wish to learn about the Nurtured Heart Approach at an entry level. The workshop will help all successfully transform challenging and intense behaviour while putting the adult back in control.
Nurtured Heart practice group (2hrs)	For those who have attended the Nurtured Heart Day 1 and wish to meet with others practising the approach.
New Parent & Child Support Group (monthly for 2 hrs)	An opportunity for newly formed families to meet for a coffee and a place for their children to play.
Training for Schools (1.5 – 2hrs)	Training provided for school staff within their own schools. This service is usually provided at the end of the school day, or during inset days and can be delivered across the region. This enables the whole staff group to access the training in situ and provides information about Attachment and the Impact of Early trauma. This training is often followed up with the completion of an individual plan for the child. This training is chargeable directly to schools.
Nurtured Heart in schools	Education professionals who have attended the Nurtured Heart training have seen that the benefits of the approach work well within the education setting. We have a programme that can be delivered specifically for schools who wish to embrace the approach within the culture of their school. “Educators have had astounding results in greatly increased test scores, attendance, and teacher satisfaction, as well as reduced bullying, suspensions, and mental health referrals.” Nurtured Heart UK
RAMP Reducing Anxiety Management Plan	Reducing Anxiety Management Plan. The RAMP is a tool to help schools to support children who find it more difficult to self-regulate, possibly struggling with peer relationships and who may be emotionally and behaviourally younger than their chronological age, as a result of early experiences of trauma and abuse. We have found that it is a useful tool for the adopted children and their families who access our service, the Centre for Adoption Support. The main purpose for completing a RAMP is often to capture all the understanding and knowledge that parents and school staff have developed about a child’s different levels of anxiety, as well as the different strategies they have found useful in helping them to calm down when anxious, and to share all this understanding with others in the school. An added bonus of the RAMP is that it tends to improve or strengthen the relationships between home and school.
RAMP review	Following the completion of a RAMP we would review its effectiveness after a couple of months and where appropriate make the necessary adjustments continuing to engage with school and family. This is a briefer exercise that the construction of the original document which by this stage has become a useful tool when implementing the agreed strategies.

Training & Support

One to one work with child	Therapeutic Lifestory work up to 6 sessions
One to one family work	Family sessions undertaken by CfAS staff and number of sessions to be agreed by the referring service, family and CfAS. Regular reviews, and timely reports.

Therapy Service

For the most complex cases, CfAS may recommend that Local Authorities access support from the well established Therapeutic Service.

Parenting some children placed for adoption can also present challenges and require significant emotional resilience. In order to support and facilitate change, the therapy service provides evidence based interventions that best meet the needs of adopted children and their families. Each family has different strengths and needs. Our Therapy Service therefore provides a personalised therapeutic intervention based on a structured assessment. There are a number of options available for families:

Standard Assessment	An assessment of need can be completed by the social worker and a member of the Centre for Adoption Support. The assessment would identify clear recommendations which would help shape the support plan.
Enhanced Assessment	This is conducted by a clinical psychologist and will cover all domains of a child's life. This will include sessions with the adopters, the child, school and other professionals as appropriate. The assessment will provide clear recommendations regarding a way forward. Any therapeutic goals could be delivered by the psychologist completing the report. Both assessments can include a risk assessment.

Therapeutic Intervention

Our Therapy Service can provide a wide range of therapists located in the North West. The therapists have specialist skills and experience of working with adopted children and their families. Approaches include Dyadic Developmental Psychotherapy, Theraplay, Child psychotherapy, Filial play therapy, Eye Movement Desensitization Reprocessing (EMDR), I Matter. Approaches incorporate developments in neuropsychology, brain development and sensory integration.

Therapists are registered to practice and have ongoing clinical supervision.

Therapeutic interventions are informed by an assessment, have clearly defined goals with regular reviews as agreed. Work is evaluated so that progress and effectiveness can be monitored.

The cost of therapy will be determined by the duration and frequency of intervention. In order to provide an indication of costs, examples of interventions are listed in our separate pricing sheet.
